ABSTRACT

The application of 30 minutes walking exercise to lower blood pressure in patients with hypertension at Gambirsari Health Center

Background: Hypertension is a state of cardiovascular disease characterized by an increase in blood pressure beyond normal. Hypertension is expressed in millimeters (mm) mercury (Hg). Patients with hypertension can be done 30 minutes walking foot to lower blood pressure. Objective: To know the effect of the exercise of walking 30 minutes to lower blood pressure in patients with hypertension.

Methods: this type of study is applied study with case studies and using descriptive study method. Result: blood pressure before implementing the 30 minutes walking exercise to Ny. P 178/80 mmHg dan Ny.C 145/80 mmHg. After implementing the 30 minutes walking exercise the blood pressure Ny.P 170/80 mmHg and Ny.C 130/80 mmHg. Conclusion: a decrease after the implementation of 30 minutes walking exercise for 2 weeks, 3 times every week on 3-5 July 2018 and in the second week of 9-11 July 2018 at Kadipiro Banjarsari district Surakarta city.

Keywords: Hypertension, 30 Minutes Walking Exercise, Blood Pressure